

Big hunt for Brothers started

The first match for the newly formed Big Brothers society in Kitimat was officially designated Wednesday afternoon with Big Brother Gerry Zweip and Little Brother Martin Mix.

The two have since been involved in the Big Run for Little Brothers, a nationwide pledge for support of the Big Brothers organization.

The run was over Saturday night and has gained the Kitimat chapter an estimated $1400 to be used for up-coming activities of the society in Kitimat. Next on the organization's agenda is a Big Hunt for Brothers.

Zweip estimated the match to have taken two weeks. This was a particularly expedient match due to the previous link Zweip has held with the organization in Vancouver. "Because I was already approved for Big Brother status in Vancouver my files were transferred up here and the screening, matching and support committee were aided in their duties of approving me as a Big Brother," explained Gerry.

Gerry and Martin attended the Big Run together as the first official Brothers. Besides the run the two have spent an estimated 5 to 8 hours together doing what is intended, sharing life through the eyes of a male.

The Big Brother executive of Kitimat would like to thank the people who supported their efforts and specifically, the Legion, the fire department, the RCMP, Mount Elizabeth Secondary School, the Alcan fitness club, and the United Church. Gerry says there are "a good number of boys who need a Big Brother in Kitimat," and will keep the search for matches going all the time.

For more information on the organization call Gerry at 632-2873, or Jean Koe at Kitimat Community Services at 632-3139.

VICTORIA (CP) — Relay teams for Big Brothers of Canada set off simultaneously from here and St. John's, Nfld., Saturday with the objective of meeting in Ottawa by Father's Day June 18.

The eastern and western relay runners plan to travel day and night at a jogging pace to cover more than 11,000 kilometres. A third relay run, through southwestern Ontario, will join the other two for the finish in Ottawa at the end of Big Brother Week.

The relay run—The Big Run For Little Brothers—was organized to bring public attention to the work of Big Brothers, an organization which provides guidance and friendship to fatherless boys through 135 agencies across Canada.

The run also will serve as a money-raising campaign. A spokesman said 90 per cent of the funds will be returned to the community raising the money to expand the local Big Brother service.

RCMP report

One adult and four juveniles were apprehended by Terrace RCMP last week following a theft at the public library. Charges are pending.

A Pioneer chain saw and a pair of sheet metal shears were stolen from the back of a pickup last week when it was parked on Dobbie Road. A resident of McDeek Avenue had approximately $130 worth of fishing tackle stolen from an outbuilding on his property. Police are investigating.

One juvenile was picked up Friday after attempting to shoplift from Safeway and on the same day an adult was charged after he failed in his attempt to shoplift from Sight & Sound.

A Terrace juvenile was picked up and charged in connection with a break and enter at CN Telecommunication early Saturday morning. The would-be thief was frightened off by an employee but later apprehended by police. Police are still investigating a smashed plate glass window at Central Flowers sometime Saturday night. Pine Grocery also had two windows smashed during the night.

One person was charged with driving while under the influence and refusing to provide a breathalyzer sample as a result of a motor vehicle accident in the early morning last Friday at the intersection of Straume and Eby.

No one was injured in the mishap, but total damages were estimated at $2,000.

A total of 14 persons were lodged in local cells throughout the weekend as a result of being intoxicated. Two persons were charged with drunk driving and three persons had their licenses suspended for 24 hours.

Pagers call firefighters

Thornhill volunteer Fire Department responded to two fires with a good number of men due to the addition of day pagers bought with increased funding after last year's Thornhill referendum was passed.

Firefighters were called to 3115 Crescent at 12:20 p.m. Thursday to the home of Vick Balatti and prevented any damage to the house.

At about 2 p.m., the department was called to the home of Ernie Fisher on 3846 Kirkaldy where about $200 damages were sustained. The fire is believed to have been started by youngsters playing with matches.

Walk-off in PR after gas leak

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C. (CP) — About 60 employees walked off the job at the Canadian Cellulose pulp mill here Friday afternoon to protest what they said was an inadequate warning system after a leak of chlorine gas earlier sent about 100 workers out of the mill. The workers, members of the Painters and Combustion Workers Union, charged that a warning alarm had not been sounded when the leak occurred at the mill at this central coastal British Columbia community.

No injuries were reported. A company official said the discharge was accidental and was caused by an "operational upset." He said the gas was under control in 15 minutes and mill officials had alerted authorities on an adjacent site where an addition to the mill is being constructed.

The workers said they were warned of the leak only when they smelled a foul odor and saw a green cloud. Company officials said a system to warn of "major escapes of gas" is in place.

Irregular use of funds

VERNON, B.C. (CP) — City council has ordered an investigation into use of public funds in the parks and recreation department.

Mayor Bob Neil said Friday that a special council meeting ordered an immediate investigation into irregularities of public funds. He would not elaborate on the investigation.

Terrace Dave Maroney joined with Skeena MP Iona Campagnolo in congratulating Gary Schuss of Kitimat, Margaret-lla McDaniel of Terrace and Nicholas Taylor of Prince Rupert who were finalists in the recent Pacific Northwest Music Festival.

Northwest Music Festival held in Terrace. All three will travel to Vernon to compete in the Provincial Music Festival on June 1.

3 Terrace musicians go to provincial finals

Three young musicians from Terrace, Kitimat and Prince Rupert, will travel to Vernon to participate in the British Columbia Provincial Music Festival June 1, 1978.

The three competing are Margaret-lla McDaniel, a junior flautist from Terrace, Nicholas Taylor, a senior flautist from Prince Rupert, and Gary Schuss, a senior accordionist, from Kitimat.

These musicians won the honor of competing in the provincial by virtue of their showing in the recent Pacific Northwest Music Festival.

In addition, scholarships have been awarded to ten other local musicians who will attend the provincials as observers. These include, Melissa Davies, Carolyn Hagen, Danny Williamson, James Watmough and Doug Romanow of Terrace, Raymond Field, Laurie Schuss and Dale Loader of Kitimat, David Hick of Prince Rupert and Steven Hamilton of Stewart.

These musicians will be accompanied to the festival which will take place at the Vernon Recreation Centre by 4 Festival members and several other interested people who hope to pick up ideas for next years Pacific Northwest Music Festival.

Zairian troops hold Kolwezi

KINSHASA (AP) — Most of the French Foreign Legion paratroopers in Zaire withdrew early Sunday from the battle-scarred town of Kolwezi in southern Zaire's Shaba province, turning the area over to Zairian troops.

In South Africa, a newspaper quoting diplomatic sources said Katanga rebels retreating from Shaba took at least 260 white hostages with them to their base in Cazombo, north-eastern Angola.

The report in Johannesburg's Sunday Express quoted sources in Pretoria, South Africa, and Lusaka, Zambia.

It also said Zaire President Mobutu Sese Seko is planning to form his own foreign legion from European veterans to bolster the confidence of white mining engineers and induce them to return to Kolwezi, which they fled during the rebel invasion May 13-20. Zaire's economy depends heavily on the region's copper mines.

The newspaper said the 260 hostages were airlifted from an airstrip in Zaire near the Zambian border last week in Cuban-piloted, Soviet-built Antonov-26 aircraft. The report could not be independently confirmed.

Western reporters with the French forces in Kolwezi said their convoy left for the provincial capital of Lubumbashi, 240 kilometres (150 miles) to the southeast, about 3 a.m. local time. About 150 of the 650 to 800-man French force remained in Kolwezi.

The French advised the reporters to leave Kolwezi, saying they no longer could be responsible for their safety.

It was not known if the French would remain in Lubumbashi or return to their base in Corsica, or how long the troops left in Kolwezi would stay there.

On Saturday, the troops held a memorial service outside Kolwezi for four comrades who died after the French parachuted into the city 10 days ago to rescue Europeans. Rebel losses are estimated between 200 and 300.

In Brussels, Belgian officials said the bodies of 73 whites killed in Kolwezi have been found and that 289 foreigners are unaccounted for. Reports from Kolwezi said the rebels had killed 262 persons of all races, including black civilians and Zairian troops.

There were about 2,500 Europeans in the area when the rebel invasion started. Most were technicians in the region's copper mines.

Between 1,200 and 1,500 Belgian troops who aided in the evacuation of Europeans from the area have returned home, but a small force remains on standby at Kamina north of Kolwezi.

Mobutu has ordered all civilians out of a 100-kilometre stretch of Shaba's border with Zambia and Angola. He declared the area a free-fire zone, ordering troops to "shoot at anything that moves" to keep rebels from returning.

Most of the rebels are Lunda tribesmen who fled to Angola after their bid for independence was defeated in the 1960s. The province then was called Katanga. Zaire was formerly the Belgian Congo.

In New York, Newsweek magazine quoted two captured invaders in its June 5 issue as saying Cuban advisers accompanied the rebel force from Angola when it left its base May 2.

The magazine said the prisoners, who identified themselves only as Joseph and Antoine, did not report seeing the Cubans in Kolwezi.

They said each rebel platoon was accompanied by "political commissars," some of whom had trained in Cuba or East Germany.

Still no solution to Quebec tax debate

QUEBEC (CP) — Finance Minister Jacques Parizeau went back to square one Friday in proposing a solution to the current sales tax debate between Quebec and Ottawa.

The plan to have Ottawa compensate Quebec for a reduction in provincial sales taxes is one that had been proposed by federal Finance Minister Jean Chretien in the days preceding his controversial April 10 budget.

"The federal government would reduce its income taxes for Quebecers while the Quebec government would increase its income tax by the matching amount," Parizeau said.

"But the federal government would continue to collect the same amount from the taxpayers and would transfer to the Quebec government the taxes it collected in the latter's place."

It boils down to Ottawa lowering its taxes on paper while collecting the same amounts as it does now, while Quebec would increase its taxes on paper, with the increase coming in a transfer from Ottawa.

HITCH REMAINS

The hitch is Chretien's demand that Quebec reduce its eight-per-cent retail sales tax across the board by three per cent for six months. Parizeau said Friday that he will not back down on the matter of selective tax cuts, because they are better suited to Quebec's economic needs than a short-term, across-the-board reduction.

Asked, in the face of that, how he could expect his compensation proposal to succeed, he cited the fact that Ottawa "is in a jam" because of the widespread opposition to Chretien's handling of the matter.

Noting that Prime Minister Trudeau said earlier this week he is prepared to meet Premier Rene Levesque to discuss the issue, Parizeau acknowledged that it would be best to settle the dispute at that level.

The fact that "Mr. Chretien sometimes gets carried away," makes it pointless to hope for a settlement in negotiations with him, Parizeau said.

Weather: Mainly sunny, 16-17 C.

Light and variable winds.

Have a good day.

Suspect held without charge

VANCOUVER (CP) — Provincial court Judge E. J. Cronin blasted city police officers Thursday for holding a bank robbery suspect for more than 24 hours without charging him.

Judge Cronin made the statement at the first court appearance of Geoff Sommers, 21, charged with the robbery of a city bank May 19.

Sommers was arrested by police Tuesday night and first appeared in court Thursday morning, 15 hours beyond the 24-hour limit. "The police seemed to believe they have the authority to hold people without them being charged," Judge Cronin said.

He said a justice of the peace was available around the clock and the suspect should have been taken before one.

The judge refused a Crown counsel request that Sommers be held in custody and released him on his own recognizance.

Beware the Cyclist

Few motorists and few pedestrians, unless they are bicyclists, themselves, are aware how long it takes a cyclist to bring a bicycle to a complete halt. It takes longer than they think!

The switch from the coaster brake to the fashionable handlebar activated brakes means that in wet weather, braking is less effective still!

Automobilists who pull sharply in front of a mobile bicycle, and even pedestrians who suddenly step out in front of a bicyclist can cause distress and damage to both the rider and the machine. Many motorists who feel that bicycles should be banned from the highways altogether, because they are "dangerous," sometimes show their hostility by their driving patterns, and display a seeming lack of highway courtesy.

On the waterways, a power boat, according to the rules of navigation, has to give way to a sailboat—absurd though it may seem. The etiquette behind this is based on the common sense factor that a motor powered vessel has more control than a boat dependent on the vagaries of the wind. A prize winning photo some years ago showed the mighty Queen Mary giving way to a tiny, one man sailboat; an example of the law of the sea in practice. The same criterion should apply on the highways. As a number of accidents and a number of near-accidents have occurred lately of this nature, we are asking our readers to word along that today's very narrow-gauge bicycle tires do not permit sudden stops with safety. Least of all, when it is raining. Since bicyclists (1) save valuable fuel, (2) do not pollute the air with noxious exhaust and (3) help keep the cyclist healthy through outdoor exercise, they are worth protecting. Remember too—Cyclists cannot be re-cycled.

Council Report

by Dave Pease

On the Courthouse

I would like to clear up some misunderstandings regarding the location of a courthouse in Terrace.

To my knowledge no member of council has ever opposed having a courthouse in Terrace. Some members of council, including myself, were concerned at receiving a letter saying in effect "we are building a courthouse in Terrace on Kalum Street, hurry up and rezone the land".

After seeing local residents fight for years to obtain rezoning I questioned the sense of council fighting any rezoning if the provincial government could completely ignore our zoning maps.

I also questioned the fact that we were in the process of developing an official Community plan, partly financed by the provincial government, but that same provincial government can totally ignore that plan and even ruin it's whole concept if it decides to build in town.

To the knowledge of council the government gave no consideration to where in the community would be the best long-term location of a courthouse but based their decision simply on the fact that they owned the land on Kalum.

Council were split three ways on the location as I saw it. Aldermen Cooper and Soutar favoured the Kalum Street location was unlikely to receive support. Aldermen Jolliffe and Giesbrecht favoured a location on Cancel property to the east of town as a start in rejuvenating that end of town, and Alderman Talstra and myself thought that a courthouse should be a centerpiece in a community and favored a location somewhere facing onto Lower Little Park.

From the above it was apparent that a motion by Aldermen Cooper and Soutar stating that council favoured the Kalum Street location was unlikely to receive support.

In addition council has to sit an independent body at a public hearing before the rezoning can take place, and they could hardly be independent if they had already gone on record as favouring that location.

In the above explanation I have stated council's feelings regarding where in Terrace each member of council would prefer to see a courthouse located, as I heard them, and given reasons for those feelings.

However I do not feel sufficiently strongly enough about the location to in any way prejudice the location of a courthouse in Terrace and will support it's location on Kalum street since that is the only location the provincial government will consider. However it is a sad day for democracy when an alderman saying "that would not be my choice of location if I was making the sole decision" is said by some residents to be sufficient for the provincial government to up stakes and build in another community.

I do not believe any government in a supposedly free country is that dictatorial.

One issue remains to be resolved regarding the courthouse and health centre is the upgrading of Kalum Street and Olson Avenue.

My personal opinion is that the entrance to a joint parking area should be a continuation of Loen Avenue with the courthouse to the south of this entrance road and the health centre to the north. This would mean that no upgrading of Olson would be necessary if no access was allowed from Olson.

Since the provincial government wants access to the courthouse from Kalum it would also limit the number of busy access streets to Kalum in a small area.

Crazy Campers — For What?

This is the time of the year when hundreds, willingly and unwillingly, take off into the wild blue yonder every weekend. You see them Friday night heading out in every direction. I am talking about the campers and trailers. Some of them go a great distance and some patronize the local campgrounds. Either way, these people leave their homes for two days most weekends and for what?

Being one of the un-willing, I have this re-occurring nightmare in which I am carried off into the sunset by thousands of giant mosquitoes (the kind you find around Usk) never to be seen again. You can all stop cheering as I have no intentions of making that nightmare come true, that is unless someone can convince me that camping has just ONE advantage over staying at home, amongst familiar surroundings.

Fresh air you say? Believe it or not my backyard is full of it—lilac scented with just a hint of manure. AHH! Now where would you find that in the country? No, dogwood and moose turds don't count.

Relaxation? I can't get more relaxed than in my recliner watching 'Country Canada' and if that is not relaxing enough there is always my nice comfortable ROOMY bed which is more than I can say for the average beds you find in campers and trailers. You turn over in one of those things and end up on the grass outside. Either that or the trailer comes off it's hitch and you roll over with your head in the overn — or worse!

No meals to cook? Ha! What do you call sweating it out over a barbeque? When I see all those people raving over the taste of burnt hamburger smothered in wood ash just because it is cooked outside, I wonder if these camping people aren't all a little strange.

Those same people given the same fare in a restaurant would stomp out indignantly NEVER to return. Okay I have to concede that some foods cooked outdoors ARE BEARABLE. I am thinking of fresh trout simmering in butter over an open fire.

But it's the dish washing that gets to me. Greasy frypans and grills washed in cold water in a bucket does NOTHING for my appetite. It is a miracle that most campers don't come down with chronic indigestion—or advanced malaria from drinking all that mountain stream water infested with tadpoles.

Getting back to nature? If being chased up a tree by a black bear or eaten alive by three dozen different varieties of skin chiggers is 'back to nature' I will take a friendly romp in the neighbourhood park, any day. I am happy knowing that I am not being stalked by a flesh-eating mammal when out for an evening stroll. The worst thing that could happen to me in town would be to be attacked by the local bonzo thinking I was the neighbourhood cat. Frankly, a cracking twig in the bush puts me into terminal shock.

Quiet? That is what camping means to you? So then, why do campers take along, THE KIDS, THE DOGS, CATS, BIRDS RADIOS (Usually blaring) and even TELEVISIONS and park along with three hundred other campers on the banks of Lakelse Lake? That kind of quiet would have two men in white coats dragging me off for a long rest.

I will tell you what camping is—it's cheap!! No motels, no restaurants to patronize, no dress stores for the wife to go crazy in, no nightclubs. I mean, a person could save money camping — THAT IS IF HE SURVIVES!

HAPPY HOLIDAYS EVERYONE!

Those who perpetuate it are serving no benefit to our area, and seem intent on disregarding the clear facts of the issue in favor of creating dissension.

Some of the reasons why a Dixon Entrance oil port does not make sense are:

- Despite myths to the contrary, the Canadian government has not entered into any agreement to move the A-B line (The Canadian-American border through Dixon Entrance) south. Such a move would only be considered if major concessions were granted by the Americans; and one such concession that I as your M.P. would hold out for would be an agreement prohibiting use of Dixon Entrance by supertankers.

-Hyder, Alaska—the supposed future oil port in this scenario— is not a realistic oil port site—because Canada shares authority with the U.S. over the entrance waters (Portland Canal) and we would not give an approval to such an environmentally unacceptable proposal.

- Other panhandle terminal locations (e.g. Wrangell) are possible without moving the A-B line, but the pipeline would still have to cross Canadian soil, and Canadian government approval would still be required; and for many of the same reasons that it rejected the Kitimat oil port proposal, the federal Cabinet—of which I am a member—would be extremely unlikely to endorse a pipeline originating from a terminal on American soil that posed a severe environmental and economic risk to Canadians.

- Federal government initiatives in the fields of energy conservation and unconventional energy sources (such as biomass conversion and oil sands development) have significantly reduced our country's future dependency on imported oil—so much so that I expect the National Energy Board hearings currently underway on this subject will report that our oil import needs until the turn of the century can be met through our existing import facilities on the east coast.

- One such initiative of local interest is the possible development of the "hot springs" in the Terrace-Kitimat area for thermal energies. I have requested my Cabinet colleague, Minister of Science and Technology, Judd Buchanan, to look into the feasibility of this.

IDLE TALK

So while stories of a "Dixon Entrance Sellout" or a Panhandle oil terminal may make good gossip or may be thought to be in the short-term advantage of the special interest groups behind them, I want to assure you that they have no basis in fact, they represent a startling degree of ignorance on the part of persons who should know better, and they should be treated as the ill-informed speculations that they are.

The Post Office

BY Frank Oberle MP

If there is one Department of Government which epitomizes—and reflects more dramatically than any other—the malaise in our general economy—the inefficiency of big government and the decline in the morale of an overgrown public service—it is the Post Office.

In the past several years our postal service has become a laughingstock not only to Canadians in all parts of our country—but to foreign observers as well. The Post Office has increased its deficit from $67 million per year to $567 million per year during the last ten years and the price of mail has risen from 4 cents to 14 cents. Even many postal employees will agree that the service one can expect from our national Post Office has never been worse. The accumulated Post Office debt now stands at an incredible 2.8 billion dollars and this is, of course, still rising. I find this personally disheartening because I believe that with competent management, intelligent and cooperative industrial relations, and some fundamental structural adjustments, we could provide Canada with a model and efficient postal service.

The Labour Picture

My office is flooded with complaints about the Post Office; most refer to either unreliable service or they talk about the poor labour situation. Who do you know that does not have a horror story to tell about their mail delivery? In the past eleven years, the staff of the Post Office has grown from 26,000 to 72,000, which, considering the diminishing quality of service, amounts to an enormous increase.

The Canadian Union of Postal Employees has never been regarded as a timid union, but they have some legitimate reasons for their hardline stance. The Post Office was established by an Act of Parliament and is operated directly from the Federal Government. As is the case with many federal departments, the Post Office suffers from too much bureaucracy, fragmented jurisdiction, and poor morale. Postal employees are not covered by the Canada Labour Act or by the Public Service Commission guidelines which apply to most federal departments. The Postmaster General is their avenue to Parliament and the succession of Ministers in this sensitive and troubled portfolio has not helped restore confidence in the Post Office.

The CUPW has been accused of militancy and adversary policies for years and an examination of the case that can be made to support that contention proves it to be somewhat valid. Last summer I was secretly forwarded a letter sent from the office of Mr. Andre Beauchamp, Vice President of the Postal Union, which specifically instructed all Post Office workers to refrain from any involvement with management during off hours. The letter went on to list activities which implied involvement, including all sporting events, and virtually everything else.

I stated at that time and I will repeat now that this totally unacceptable behavior for any responsible union, let alone a major government union. Certainly postal employees have some legitimate grievances, however, the radical approaches they adopt only add to conflict—they do nothing to solve the problems. We Have Some Answers

It is for these reasons and corresponding inaction by our government, that we have ourselves undertaken an indepth study into the affairs of the Post Office—and we are suggesting some solutions.

Our Party has some significant recommendations that warrant examination. We believe that the Post Office should be transformed into a crown corporation. This is hardly a new idea, as it has been advocated by most of the 17 major studies into the Post Office in the last 20 years.

What it would do is remove the fragmented authority and overlapping jurisdiction which has plagued postal operations. Most of the problems are due to management labour strife and systems breakdowns. The establishment of a crown corporation with instructions to hold the deficit to a minimum would certainly help to alleviate both those difficulties.

We would also allow private courier services to operate in direct competition with the Post Office. They provide legitimate services and in a small way help our unemployment problem. The very fact these services can exist and make a profit is a tribute to the inefficiency of our Post Office. Nonetheless we feel that if the postal service is upgraded and improves in efficiency, there is no reason to suspect that these private operations will endure.

We would retain the right of Parliament to set general guidelines, to determine wage settlements, and prohibit strikes. Wages would, of course, be tied more closely to the private sector under a Conservative administration.

It Will Take Time

The kind of approach we would adopt would not cure the problems of the Post Office overnight. In actual fact the process of restoring the Post Office to its previous efficiency will take a good deal of time and a great deal of comprehensive planning. The entrenched privileges of the political, managerial and union elements within the Post Office will resist the challenge, but eventually will be changed.

As with small business which I spoke to you about two weeks ago, we have the ideas and the will to institute positive changes. Most of our postal employees were hard working and dedicated servants of our country. The constant criticism they are subjected to is not always warranted.

Terrace Jaycees to host 1979 regional convention

It was announced Saturday at the Pacific Region Jaycees annual convention in Kelowna, that the Terrace and district Jaycees have been successful in their bid to host the 1979 convention in Terrace.

The Terrace Jaycees will welcome some three to four hundred British Columbia Jaycees, their wives, and friends, for Pacific Region convention 79, May 25 through 29 in Terrace.

Accommodation has already been arranged at several Terrace hotels and meeting rooms in hotels and restaurants will house the various committees of both the Jaycees and Jaycettes as they deal with the years business.

A special charter flight has been arranged via CP Air to carry delegates from Vancouver to Terrace, and return, and numerous activities have been organized for visiting Jaycees including a Nishga Banquet at the Kitsumkallum Ski Lodge.

The Terrace and District Jaycees sincerely hope that all residents of Terrace will join with them in welcoming the delegates and help to make Jaycees Pacific Region Convention 79 an outstanding success.

Skeena Bands prepare for final night concert

The band students at Skeena Jr. Sec. school are looking forward to the conclusion of another busy and rewarding season with their final night concert. The Skeena bands, having returned from a successful tour through the Okanagan, are polishing their performances for their final night concert.

Recently the Gold Band consisting of 48 students, grades 8 to 10, and the Stage Band of 18 students, visited Williams Lake, Vernon, Kelowna and Chase. They performed five concerts before some very appreciative audiences during the six day trip.

Just previous to this the whole band program was actively involved in the Pacific Northwest Music Festival. Both bands performed musically and conducted themselves in a very professional manner.

Over 25 of the individual band members entered in 18 different solo or small ensemble classes and received 11 firsts, 6 seconds and in some cases took clean sweeps of the top three places in their classes.

Both the extra-curricular performing bands, as well as the grade 8 and the grade 9 and 10 band which rehearse separate repertoire in band class during school, will be performing at the final night concert at the R.E.M. Lee Theater on Saturday, June 3. The program will begin at 8:00 p.m. and will feature music selected from the classics, marches, and the jazz and popular repertoire; something to suit every taste. Soloists from the band will also be featured throughout.

The Skeena Bands and their director, Brian Bell, invite you to share this evening of music with them. Admission will be free.

PR fire report

This week there were 10 new forest fires in the Prince Rupert Forest District increasing the seasonal total to 33. The new fires were quickly controlled and only 5 are still burning, all in the mopping up stage.

Last week we discussed fire precautions for your property. This week we will talk about fireproofing your home. You, as a rural homeowner, must assess your situation. The B.C. Forest Service is not equipped to handle structural fires. We have neither the training nor the manpower to cope with house fires. This means that you, as the occupant or owner, must take all possible measures to protect your property from fire. Some suggestions are:

1. Protect the roof: treat it with fire retardant chemicals. Keep roof and gutters clean of all needles and leaves.
2. Install a running water system. If this is not possible, a standby water supply in a large barrel and a bucket is better than nothing.
3. Clean your chimney each year. Inspect stovepipes and dampers regularly and replace if rusted or burned through. Make sure the fire is out before leaving.
4. Keep storage areas clean and tidy. Do not allow papers and rags to accumulate.

5. Develop evacuation plans. Remember Zenith 5555 is a toll free number for reporting forest fires.

For further information and advice, contact your local Forest Ranger Office.

Right to Life meet

A public meeting is set for May 31 at 8 p.m. at the Christian Reformed Church to discuss the right to life as an alternative to abortion.

This is an important meeting and all those who attended an earlier meeting with Betty Green, as well as all other interested persons are invited to attend and share their concerns.

Two items will be dealt with at the meeting. Volunteers will be asked to sign up to man the booth at the June 17 and 18 Trades Fair, and there will be a discussion to decide which direction the group will take, either in forming a Birthright chapter or a Pro-life group.

Indy threatened by rain- with fastest cars

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The 33 drivers who will start Sunday's 62nd Indianapolis 500-mile race are on edge.

The nearly month-long period of prepping for the world's richest auto race always is filled with anxiety. But, this year it was even worse than usual because of incessant rain that hampered practice, wiped out one complete weekend of qualifying and dampened everyone's spirits.

"It's been rougher than I can ever remember," said Bobby Unser, winner of the Memorial Day event in 1968 and 1975.

"We waited to practice, we waited to qualify... and now we're waiting for the race. We just haven't been able to do the things we've wanted to."

The wait will be over, weather permitting, at 11 a.m. EDT Sunday. The only real problem remaining is that weather forecasts call for about a 40 per-cent chance of rain.

In recent years, there have been almost as many eyes, at any given moment, peering skyward as there were watching the colorful, roaring racers wheel over the 2½-mile asphalt Indy oval.

FIVE SHORTENED

Only five Indianapolis races have been shortened by rain, the first in 1950. But the last three have been in the last five years.

There was a general feeling of relief when last year's race went the distance, with A.J. Foyt becoming the first driver to win four times.

Defending national driving champion Tom Sneva, Danny Ongais and Indy rookie Rick Mears, comprising the first of 11 rows of cars in the field, will lead the way into the first turn of the 200-lap race.

Rutherford, Al Unser—Bobby's younger brother and also a two-time winner—and Gordon Johncock make up the second row.

Bobby Unser qualified on the inside of the seventh row, next to Foyt.

The only other previous winner in the field is 1969 champion Mario Andretti, who gave up his chance at the pole and the front rows in

Mini-Indy

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Slowed by blistering heat and humidity, two-time Boston Marathon champion Bill Rodgers captured first place Friday in the Indianapolis mini-marathon, finishing the race in record time.

Rodgers, of Boston, took 63 minutes, 43.1 seconds to cover the 13-mile-plus course that wound from downtown Indianapolis to the finish line at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. He shaved 13 seconds off the time set last year by Frank Shorter in the first Indy Mini.

Fan Fatality

SEATTLE (AP) — A basketball fan, who begged to know the score of the National Basketball Association playoff game between Seattle SuperSonics and Washington Bullets as doctors worked to save him from a heart attack Sunday, has died.

The man, who was unidentified, suffered the heart attack before Sunday's game and was taken to the Virginia Mason medical centre.

Just after he asked to watch the game on television, his heart stopped. A breathing tube down his throat stopped him from talking, but he wrote several notes to nurses, asking for the score and asking to watch the game on television. He got to see the 106-102 Sonic victory.

He died Monday evening, hospital officials said.

order to drive in the Belgian Grand Prix, which he won.

Andretti's car was qualified here by Mike Hiss. That meant, under Speedway rules, Andretti is consigned to the final spot in the field. Nobody has won starting from the 33rd position.

Starting from the 28th position is Cliff Hucul of Prince George, B.C., in a McLaren-Offenhauser.

UPDATE: At the 140 lap mark of the '78 Indy 500 track sources report the leader, in number 2 car, Al Unser. Unser is followed closely by Danny Ungious in car number 25.

The thirty-three car field has had only one mishap so far, Spike Gelhausen lost his steering box early in the race and glanced off the number 2 corner wall, according to track sources.

The 140 laps already sped away by the cars and drivers has been one of the safest Indy 500's in years, say press officials.

Behind Ungious in third spot is Tom Sneva in car number 1, in fourth is Gordon Johncock, former winner at Indy, and in fifth is the leading drivers' brother, Bobbie Unser.

Speculation on the spectator turnout is at 300,000. Rain has threatened the race for several weeks but has held off thus far in the competition.

According to track press Unser or Johncock will win the famous title for this year.

Track temperature at race time was 110 F, city temperature was 90 F, a little above average, according to track press.

Favourites take lead in gymnastic competition

OTTAWA (CP) — Defending champions Phillip Delesalle and Karen Kelsall of Victoria surprised no one Friday when they vaulted into the lead after the first day of competition at the Canadian gymnastics championships.

Delesalle was the most consistent senior men's performer, winning three of six compulsory events and finishing second in two others. He had a comfortable lead over Jean Choquette of Montreal.

Kelsall won one of four events and finished second twice. She leads Elfi Schlegel of Toronto by a fraction of a point. Dan Gaudet of Toronto was tops in junior men's competition, while fellow-Torontonian Kathy Mc-Morrow led the junior women's division.

The top six senior men and women will make up the team that competes later this year at the world championships, while the top four will represent Canada in the Commonwealth Games at Edmonton.

Warren Long of Montreal was in third place in the senior men's standings ahead of teammate Pierre Leclerc, Owen Walstrom of Victoria and Nigel Rothwell of Windsor, Ont.

In senior women's, Sherry Hawco of Cambridge, Ont., was third ahead of a group of seven bunched one point back.

Optional routines will be performed today with the finals taking place Sunday.

Bruins put guard on '79 Stanley Cup

By MIKE BROWN
MONTREAL (CP) — In the aftermath of Montreal Canadiens' third consecutive Stanley Cup, one question remains to be answered. Have the Canadiens just begun their domination of the National Hockey League championship series?

Although the 1977-78 team may not be on a par with the 1956-60 Canadiens, who won a record five consecutive Stanley Cups in the toughest six-team league, the current roster definitely is the most formidable lineup in the present 16-team setup.

However, a dark cloud, in the form of Boston Bruins, may be forming on the horizon.

The Bruins gave Montreal its toughest battle in their last three Cup-winning series, forcing the Canadiens to six games before losing out 4-2 in the best-of-seven series. The last two years, Montreal has been an easy 4-0 winner.

Veteran Boston goaltender Gerry Cheevers feels the Bruins are close to breaking up that run for a fourth straight title.

"I've got one more year to go on my contract, and I'm looking forward to it," he said. "I'm looking forward to playing next year with this team."

ONE TO GO
"This season was fun. We're getting closer to being on a par with Montreal all the time. I think we're only one player away from being as good as they are."

"If we get that player, you'll see a hell of a final next year and we'll be in it with them."

The main reason Bruins were in it this year was the work of Cheevers, who often was brilliant in goal during the two victories in Boston in the third and fourth games, and he will be a vital part of any Bruins drive to oust the Canadiens next year.

The confidence Boston needs comes not only from Cheevers, but from other Bruins regulars such as Peter McNab.

"You can't go around and pretend you're happy about finishing second best," McNab said. "We played this series feeling we could win, and that's why losing hurts so much."

"A year ago ... no. They just blew us out in four games. We knew they were better then, even though we tried our hardest."

"But this year, we really thought we had a chance."

All indications point to a Montreal-Boston confrontation in next year's Stanley Cup final. For the last two years, the two teams have finished one-two in total points in the regular-season standings and one-two in the finals.

Baseball

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Like many a New York slugger of yesteryear, Cliff Johnson put on his Yankees pinstripes Friday night and scared the opposition to death. Then Jim Spencer took over and bludgeoned them into submission.

were clinging to a 2-0 lead when the Yankees loaded the bases with one out in the bottom of the seventh on singles by Lou Piniella and Chris Chambliss and a walk to Graig Nettles.

That brought up designated hitter Johnson, who does most of his hitting, designated and otherwise, against the Blue Jays. Last year, he battered Toronto pitchers for eight hits, including five homers off Garvin, in 21 at-bats and drove in 10 runs. Both of his 1978 homers have come at the Blue Jays' expense.

The ensuing battle of wits saw Harry Warner, Toronto's acting manager, bring in righthander Tom Murphy to relieve Garvin.

New York's Billy Martin countered by sending Spencer up to bat for Johnson.

HITS GRAND SLAM
Murphy's first two pitches were balls. Spencer hit the third one over the fence for a grand slam that gave the Yankees a 4-3 triumph.

Spencer's blast nullified a pair of homers by Toronto's John Mayberry, a two-run shot off Jim Beattie in the sixth inning and a solo blast off Sparky Lyle in the eighth.

The victory was the Yankees' fifth in a row and 20th in their last 26 games. They trail first-place Boston by one game in the AL East.

Willie McCovey thinks San Francisco Giants have finally turned the tables on Los Angeles Dodgers.

"We don't have to prove anything to the Dodgers," said the 40-year-old McCovey after he drove in five runs in San Francisco's 6-1 victory over Los Angeles Friday night.

"They know how good we are."

After so many years of Dodgers superiority and a rivalry, dating back to the Brooklyn-New York days, which McCovey's still contains some animosity, he thinks the Giants have the upper hand.

In the last four games, a Giants pitching staff led by Vida Blue has given up only four runs in four consecutive victories.

"We've got a great pitching staff, so why not go for it," McCovey said after his two-run single and three-run homer, the 497th of his career, backed Bob Knepper's six-hitter.

In other National League baseball games, Pittsburgh Pirates beat Montreal Expos 2-1, Cincinnati Reds defeated San Diego Padres 3-1, Atlanta Braves beat Philadelphia Phillies 4-2, Chicago Cubs beat St. Louis Cardinals 6-0 and Houston Astros defeated New York Mets 5-4.

McCovey's homer was his fourth of the season and drew two standing ovations from the crowd of 43,646, the largest night-time baseball crowd ever at Candlestick Park.

The left-handed Knepper, 6-2, lost his shutout bid in the ninth when Ron Cey homered for L.A.

Argos all-star trade

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto Argonauts announced Friday night they have sent veteran import linebacker Ray Nettles to Hamilton Tiger-Cats as compensation for the signing of free agent slotback-wide receiver Mike Harris.

Harris played out his option on a multi-year contract last season in Hamilton.

Nettles, 29, named the outstanding defensive lineman in the Canadian Football League in 1973 when he played with British Columbia Lions, joined the Argos in 1975.

The Argos had earlier tried to send defensive tackle Granville Liggins to Hamilton in compensation for Harris, but the Ticats would not agree.

Argos will also receive future considerations in the deal for Nettles.

Giving up an all-star of the calibre of Nettles appeared to be a high price for Argos to pay for Harris who, ironically, had once been Argos property.

Harris, a 6-foot 5-inch, 230-pounder from Kansas State University, was recruited by Toronto three years ago but released by then head coach Russ Jackson and wound up in Hamilton.

The Ticats had accused the Argos of tampering with Harris before his option had expired. Rejecting Liggins as compensation, they demanded instead all-star defensive tackle Ecomet Burley.

Argos general manager Dick Shatto admitted that giving up Nettles, a key player on Toronto's strong defence last season, was a difficult decision.

"But it was a matter of trying to satisfy Hamilton's demands and putting together something acceptable to both parties," said Shatto. "We had to give up someone good to get someone good."

"There were many factors to consider. One was who was older. Nettles (29) or Burley (24). Ecomet is just coming into his own."

Hamilton general manager Bob Shaw was elated at his acquisition.

"He's one of the top players at his position in the league," Shaw said of Nettles. "I'm tickled pink."

Hill winner

VANCOUVER (CP) — John Hill, 22, of Vancouver, clocked two hours, 20 minutes, 49.6 seconds in winning the seventh annual Lions Gate International Marathon at Stanley Park Saturday.

A total of 522 runners started off in rain to run five times around an asphalt circuit through the park—a total of 26 miles, 385 yards. The starting field was more than double the 238 that ran the race last year.

Tom Howard of Vancouver set 2:14:33.8 as the fastest mark in 1974.

Second in this year's race was Ross Jackson, 33, of New Zealand, clocking 2:22:54.2, and third was Bill MacIntosh, 26, of West Vancouver in 2:24:24.6.

Gail MacKeen, 20, of Comox, B.C., who placed 101st over-all among the 458 finishers, was timed at 2:55:39.8 as the first woman to cross the finish line.

John Linde, 60, of Portland, Ore., covered the distance in 3:41:34 and placed 344th overall as the oldest finisher. The last runner crossed the line in 4:53:02.3.

Can-Am auto racing led by Lola's

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Elliott Forbes-Robinson took the lead on the sixth lap from Alan Jones and held off a late challenge by Jones to win the $50,000 Can-Am 200 Saturday at the Charlotte Motor Speedway.

Forbes-Robinson, driving a Lola, spun out five laps from the finish but was back on the track in a matter of seconds and maintained a 25-second lead.

When the flag fell at the end of the 200-kilometre Canadian-American Challenge Series event.

Jones, also in a Lola, moved from the front row into the lead early in the race and opened a gap on the 2.25-mile course, which twisted through the Charlotte Motor Speedway road layout and also stretched onto the banked oval.

But Jones suffered a flat tire on lap six, losing some of the glass fibre off his sleek racer in the process, and went down nearly a lap while the tire was changed.

But as the futuristic Can-Am racers continued through the race, Jones quickly worked his way back toward the front. On lap 38, he pulled to within several yards of second-place Al Holbert's Lola, and as the two sped down the back straight at nearly 160 miles an hour, Jones dived low on the bank to turn and took second from Holbert.

Forbes-Robinson opened a 45-second margin over Jones and maintained that until he went into the pits for gas on lap 38. Jones stayed on the course, having taken on some gasoline when his flat tire was changed early in the race. But because his flat occurred in the early going, he was not able to get enough gas during that stop to last throughout the race, and he made a pit stop on lap 43.

Forbes-Robinson maintained his lead over Jones until he spun off onto the grass, but he put his Lola back onto the track within a matter of seconds and went on to win the race.

Bill Tempero of Fort Collins, Colo., took third place one lap behind the leaders in a Chevron. Holbert was fourth, also a lap down, and Vern Schuppan of Adelaide, Australia, was fifth in an Elfin.

The Can-Am event was the first at Charlotte Motor Speedway, followed a 100-mile Sportsman's race on the 1.5-mile speedway and preceded today's $350,000 World 600 stock car race.

TR7 Triumph

WINNIPEG (CP) — Jean-Paul Perreux of Laval, Que., driving a Triumph TR7, won the Trail of the Bison rally on Saturday, the fourth round of the Molson rally championship of Canada.

Eric Jones of Columbus, Ohio, was second in a Datsun and Andy Falkiewicz of Brantford, Ont., finished third in a Datsun 510.

Current leader Taisto Heinonen of Vancouver had to drop out after running out of gas when handling problems forced him to lighten the car's fuel load.

He retains the lead for the rally championship with 40 points after four rounds. Falkiewicz, who has consistently recorded high placings, is second with 27 and Perreux, after a slow start, is third with 24 points.

Swiftsure sailing

VICTORIA (CP) — American vessels were leading in the 136.2-mile annual Swiftsure sailing classic as race officials began tallying corrected elapsed times Sunday.

Outrageous, skippered by Dr. P. A. Burns of Bremerton, Wash., was leading with a time of 20 hours, 21 minutes, 57 seconds, and Warrior, skippered by Mr. L. B. Hedrick of Seattle, Wash., was second with 20:18:01.

Windward Passage, skippered by Fritz Johnson of New York, was first to cross the finish line at 8:16 a.m., but its International Offshore Rules handicap dropped it to third place with a corrected elapsed time of 20:21:57.

The vessel Drifter, skippered by Ron Hart and Dick Warren of the Lahaina Yacht Club at Maui, was second across the line and was in fourth place with 20:46:00.

A winner had not yet been declared because of the complicated handicap system for the two-day race.

Players heckled

ROME (AP) — Top-seeded Bjorn Borg, unshaken by a bee and a barrage of coins hurled by a partisan crowd, downed unranked local favorite Adriano Panatta 1-6, 6-3, 6-1, 4-6, 6-3 Sunday in the finals of the $210,000 Italian Open tennis championship.

The 21-year-old Swede, who threatened to walk off the court unless the crowd calmed down, endured a three-hour marathon for the $24,000 first prize.

Borg, in his first outdoor clay tournament since last October, also survived disputed and changed line calls that always went against him.

At the start of the final, the crowd was told to abstain from "demonstrations that may disturb the players."

Spaniard Jose Higueras, subjected to jeers and cat-calls while leading against Panatta in the semi-finals, stormed off the court Saturday.

Borg conceded the first set to Panatta, but in the next two sets, he broke Panatta's serve five times.

The Mount Elizabeth Parents' Committee will be holding their annual general meeting on Monday, June 5th at 7:30 p.m. in the cafeteria at Mount Elizabeth. The guest speaker, Mr. Dale Fittick, District Superintendent, will explain the report from the recent External Observation Team who were in our District a few weeks ago. This team met with various officials in the District as well as teachers and parents, and their comments were reported back to the District. There will be election of officers for the next school term and anyone interested in this Committee and their child's education is invited to attend. Brief reports on the Committee's activities over the past year will also be given. It is hoped that many interested parents and teachers will attend this meeting. Remember June 5th at 7:30 p.m.

FOR TUESDAY, MAY 30, 1978

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth sign. ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20) Some complex situations indicated, but none that you can't solve in your usual efficient manner. Don't be distracted by the frivolities of others. TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21) Apathy and indifference now prevalent in certain quarters. Don't let them dampen your enthusiasm, but do counter with poise and equanimity. GEMINI (May 22 to June 21) Fine influences! You should be able to hurdle almost any obstacle now. But DO avoid emotionalism; also impulsiveness and extremes. CANCER (June 22 to July 23) Caution should be day's keynote. Don't create unnecessary problems through impulsiveness, and take no reckless chances. LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23) Get all promises in writing. Others will respect you if you are firm but fair. A slight disappointment could eventually redound to your favor, so... patience! VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) You may be able to put over a good deal, conclude a profitable agreement. At least, steps toward such ends can be initiated. But don't press; maneuver adroitly. LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) Past efforts should be bearing fruit now. Study conditions and trends which may seem odd but may hold new advantages. SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22) You can accomplish more by teamwork now than by "going it alone." Some fine opportunities indicated through cooperation with associates. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

A period for ACTION! Put all you have into day's endeavors: your best thoughts, plans, efforts. Look for the unexpected, and appreciate all — even the challenges. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Clever management must be your keyword in day's battle for gains. Also, concentration on what you are doing. Sidestep intrigue. AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Don't be swayed by outside distractions, the bizarre doings of others. You could be fooled if not alert. Mixed influences — some disconcerting. PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) A curious suggestion may be made. If you have even the slightest doubt about it, reject summarily. Your hunches are usually correct. YOU BORN TODAY are extremely versatile and often couple a profitable avocation along with your regular life work. You have talent for music, writing, architecture, the law and teaching — but, in the latter case, only if you are interested in the subject and can control your normal impatience with those less gifted than yourself. You have a remarkable memory and the curiosity and persistence needed to excel in research. You tend to scatter energies at times, however, mostly trying to achieve in widely separated fields. Try to concentrate on one thing at a time. Also, try to avoid a tendency toward hypersensitivity. Birthdate of: Cornelia Oils Skinner, writer, actress; Benny Goodman, clarinetist. JOE LOUIS held the heavyweight championship longer than anyone else — 12 years. SEALS ARE STAPLE DIET Polar bears feed almost entirely on seals. The first co-educational college was Oberlin in Ohio which awarded a degree to a woman in 1841.

Fathers get paid to change diapers

By EDWARD CODY
STOCKHOLM (AP) — A growing number of new Swedish fathers, paid and encouraged by the government, are staying home with the bottles and diapers on baby leave while their wives go back to work.

"I'll be working for let's say 40 years, and if I give three months of it to my child, I think it's worth the cost to my career," said Svante Axelsson, who is taking care of his five-month-old daughter, Lisa.

About 12 per cent of the 90,000 Swedish couples who had babies last year divide nursery duty in a similar manner. Under urging from the social welfare ministry, which is trying to remodel traditional sex roles, the number has grown steadily from two per cent since paternity leave was added to Sweden's extensive welfare system in 1974.

PAYS SALARIES
The government pays 90 per cent of parents' salaries and forces often reluctant employers to grant them time off—up to nine months, that can be split between husband and wife.

"We want fathers to take care of their children," said Lena Malmberg, an official of the Social Insurance Board that administers the program. "It's the trend that they ought to get to know their children. And it's also a trend that women have equality and ought to be able to get out of the house and go to work."
